1) PURPOSE

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, No. 2 of 2000 (“the Act”) was enacted on 3rd February 2000 and gives effect to the constitutional right of access to information held by the State and any other person that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. Where a request is made in terms of the Act, the body to which the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information may or must not be released. The Act sets out the requisite procedural requirements attached to such requests.

2) INTRODUCTION TO PRINCIPA DECISIONS (PTY) LIMITED

Principa Decisions (Pty) Limited (“the Company”) (formerly Processing Integration Consulting Solutions, or PIC Solutions) is a juristic person incorporated as a private company in terms of the company laws of the Republic of South Africa. The Company is classified as a “private body” within the definition of Section 1 of the Act, and conducts business as a leading specialist credit risk solutions company.

The Company was formed in 1999 when a need was identified for a South African based, independent, consumer credit risk consulting firm. The company name was changed to Principa Decisions (Pty) Limited in 2012 to more accurately reflect our evolving product and service offerings.

Our data scientists, developers and consultants work together to develop data analytics products and solutions that derive answers, predictions and recommended actions from large and complex data sets for over 150 companies in 30 countries in Africa, Middle East and Europe. We are experts in using data insights to predict human behaviour and drive the optimal outcome: from identifying the most profitable customers or account holders to target to identifying and targeting your most cost-effective marketing initiative for a defined market segment. Our aim is to turn data into wisdom that enables companies to work wonders.

We take data, organise it into information, interpret the data and draw insights to give you an understanding of your current situation. We then apply our knowledge and experience to help you make decisions and develop strategies that improve or change your situation. Together with our data analytics skills and products, industry experience, and technology we help companies work wonders.

3) PURPOSE OF THE MANUAL

8) PROCEDURE FOR REQUESTING ACCESS TO INFORMATION

8.1 Access to records held by Company

Records held by the company may be accessed by requests only once the prerequisite requirements for access have been met.

A requestor must use the prescribed form to make a request for access to a record. A “requestor” in relation to a private body means -

- any person, including, but not limited to, a public body or an official thereof, making a request for access to a record of that private body; or
- a person acting on behalf of the person contemplated above.

There are two types of requesters:

- Personal Requester

A personal requester is a requester who seeks access to a record containing personal information about the requester. The Company will voluntarily provide the requested information, or give access to any record with regard to the requester’s personal information. The prescribed fee for reproduction of the information requested will be charged.

- Other Requester

This requester (other than a personal requester) is entitled to request access to information on third parties.

8.2 Form of request

8.2.1 The requester must use the Form as set out in Annexure A of this manual, to make a request for access to a record

8.2.2 The request should be made to the Designated Information Officer at the address, fax number or electronic mail address as stated above;

8.2.3 The prescribed form must be filled in with sufficient detail to enable the Designated Information Officer to identify [Section 53]:

- The record or records requested and the requester of the information;
- The form of access required;
- The postal address; fax number or e-mail address of the requester in the Republic;
- The right the requester is seeking to exercise or protect and provide an explanation of why the record is required for the exercise or protection of that right;
- If in addition to a written reply, the manner in which the requester wishes to be informed of the decision regarding the request made; and
- If the request is made on behalf of a person, the capacity in which the requester is making the request.

If an individual is unable to complete the prescribed form because of illiteracy or disability, such a person may make the request orally.

8.3 Fees

The Act provides for two types of fees, namely:

- A request fee, which will be a standard fee. The fee that the requester must pay to a private body is R50; and
- An access fee, which must be calculated by considering reproduction costs, search and preparation time and cost, as well as postal costs.

The requester may lodge an application to the court against the tender or payment of the request fee or access fee. [Section 54(3) (b)].

- 8.3.1 The requester must pay the prescribed request fee, before any further processing can take place. When the Designated Information Officer receives the request, such officer shall by notice require the requester, other than a personal requester, to pay the prescribed request fee (if any), before further processing of the request. [Section 54(1)].

The notice must also set out the procedure for lodging the application [Section 54(3) (c)].

- 8.3.2 A requester, who seeks access to a record containing personal information about that requester, is not required to pay the request fee. Every other requester, who is not a personal requester, must pay the prescribed required request fee.
- 8.3.3 If the search for and the preparation of the record for disclosure, including arrangements to make it available in the requested form, requires more than the hours prescribed, the Designated Information Officer shall notify the requester to pay as a deposit the prescribed portion (being no more than one third) of the access fee which would be payable if the request is granted. [(Section 54(2)].
- 8.3.4 If a deposit has been paid and the request for access refused, the deposit referred to above must be repaid to the requester.
- 8.3.5 The designated information officer may withhold a record until the requester has paid the applicable fees as indicated in Annexure B.
- 8.3.6 A requester, whose request for access to a record has been granted, must pay an access fee for reproduction, search and preparation, and for any time reasonably required in excess of the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record for disclosure including deciding to make it available in the requested form [Section 54(5)]. In terms of the Act [Section 54(7)], the access fee prescribed for the purposes referred to above must
- provide for the costs of making the record, or a transcription of a record;
 - and if applicable a postal fee; and
 - the time reasonably required to search for the record and prepare the record for disclosure to the requester.

9) CONSIDERING YOUR REQUEST

- 9.1 The Company will, within 30 days of receipt of the request, decide whether to grant or decline the request and give notice with reasons to that effect [Section 56].
- 9.2 The 30-day period within which the Company is to decide whether to grant or refuse the request may be extended for a further period of not more than 30 days if [Section 57]:
- the request is for a large number of records or requires a search through a large number of records and compliance with the original period would unreasonably interfere with the activities of the private body concerned;
 - the request requires a search for records in, or collection thereof from, an office of the private body not situated in the same town or city as the office of the head that cannot reasonably be completed within the original period;
 - consultation among divisions of the Company or with another private body is necessary or desirable to decide upon the request that cannot reasonably be completed within the original period;
 - more than one of the circumstances contemplated in the paragraphs above exist in respect of the request making compliance with the original period not reasonably possible;
 - the requester consent in writing to such extension.
 - If the period is extended, the Designated Information Officer will within 30 days after the request is received notify the requester of
 - The period of the extension;
 - The reasons for the extension, including the provisions of this Act relied upon; and
 - That the requester may lodge an application with a court against the extension, and the procedure (including the period) for lodging the application.

10) GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL OF ACCESS TO RECORDS

The main grounds for the Company to refuse a request for information relates to the:

10.1 Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person, which would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about that natural person [Section 63]. A record will not be refused in so far as it consists of information:

- about an individual who has consented to the disclosure of the record;
- already publicly available;
- that was given the private body by the individual to whom it relates and the individual was informed by or on behalf of the private body, before it is given, that the information belongs to a class of information that would or might be made available to the public;
- about an individual's physical or mental health, or well-being, who is under the care of the requester and who is -
- under the age of 18 years; or
- incapable of understanding the nature of the request, and if giving access would be in the individual's best interests;
- about an individual who is deceased and the requester is the individual's next of kin; or
- making the request with the written consent of the individual's next of kin; or
- about an individual who is or was an official of a private body and which relates to the position or functions of the individual, including, but not limited to -
- the fact that the individual is or was an official of that private body;
- the title, work address, work phone number and other similar particulars of the individual;
- the classification, salary scale or remuneration and responsibilities of the position held or services performed by the individual; and
- the name of the individual on a record prepared by the individual in the course of employment.

10.2 Mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party, if the record contains:

- Trade secrets of that third party;
- Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of that third party;
- Information disclosed in confidence by a third party to the Company, if the disclosure could put that third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition [Section 64].

10.3 Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement [Section 65];

10.4 Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property [Section 66]. The head of a private body must refuse a request for access to a record of the body if its disclosure could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of an individual. The head of a private body may refuse a request for access to a record of the body if its disclosure would be likely to prejudice or impair the security of:

- a building, structure or system, including, but not limited to, a computer or communication system;
- a means of transport; or any other property; or
- methods, systems, plans or procedures for the protection of -
- an individual in accordance with a witness protection scheme;
- the safety of the public, or any part of the public; or
- the security of property contemplated above.

10.5 Mandatory protection of records which would be regarded as privileged in legal proceedings [Section 67];

- 10.6 The commercial activities of the Company, which may include [Section 68]:
- Trade secrets of the Company;
 - Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interests of the Company;
 - Information which, if it is disclosed could put the Company at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition;
 - A computer programme which is owned by the Company, and which is protected by copyright [Section 68]; and
- 10.7 The research information of the Company or a third party, if its disclosure would disclose the identity of the Company, the researcher or the subject matter of the research and would place the research at a serious disadvantage [Section 69];
- 10.8 Requests for information that are clearly frivolous or vexatious, or which involve an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

11) REMEDIES AVAILABLE WHEN THE COMPANY REFUSES A REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

11.1 Internal Remedies

The Company does not have an internal appeals procedure. As such, the decision made by the Designated Information Officer is final. The requesters will have to exercise such external remedies at their disposal, if the request for information is refused and the requester is not satisfied with the answer supplied by the Designated Information officer.

11.2 External Remedies [Section 78]

A requester that is dissatisfied with the Designated Information officer's refusal to disclose information may, within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a Court for relief.

Likewise, a third party dissatisfied with the Designated Information officer's decision to grant a request for information may, within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a Court for relief. For the purposes of the Act, the Courts that have jurisdiction over these applications are the:

- Constitutional Court,
- The High Court or another Court of similar status.
